ACCELERATING WAN TRANSFORMATION FOR YOUR BUSINESS

Wide area networks are moving forward faster than ever before with the significant benefits enabled by Software-Defined WAN technology. Now organizations needing to support their branch offices with increased bandwidth, flexibility and security can deliver premium network experiences using low-cost Internet bandwidth.

SD-WAN simplifies network operation using a single multi-service networking platform that address current needs and can easily scale to accommodate future growth.

Key benefits include:

- High Availability – Meet new bandwidth demands created by cloud connectivity, mobile and video traffic with the attractive price-to-performance gains of the Internet.
- Savings – Seamlessly augment your MPLS with Internet links instead of new MPLS VPN services to save 50% or more depending on geography, as estimated by Telegeography.
- Application Performance – Identify and prioritize applications over your WAN and automatically change traffic flows according to business policy.
- Security – Achieve the same level of security on your public Internet and wireless connections as your private WAN using SD-WAN's policy-based security approach.
- Scalability – Centralized management enables expansion to thousands of sites and any size branch location while maintaining tight control.
- Deployment – Add new sites or make network changes easily and quickly.
